

Bucket Fillers

HOW YOU CAN FILL BUCKETS AT HOME

As we all face today's challenges, we want to help.

The uncertainty of daily life right now can dip into our buckets. Kids are at home, people are trying to work from home, and many others simply can't work because their place of employment is closed. It's stressful!

We've put together a list of ideas and resources that we hope can help fill your bucket during this time. If you need help with any of our resources, please email support@bucketfillers101.com for assistance. Remember . . . take care of yourself and keep your own bucket filled so you can fill the buckets of others!

Free Bucket Fillers' Resources

- 1) Free downloads and activities, like a coloring page, word search, and crossword puzzle, to keep everyone's focus on filling buckets.
- 2) Fun online jigsaw puzzle. Make it a contest to see how quickly you can finish the puzzle. Try to beat your best score!
- 3) Free bucket lessons full of ideas on different ways you can fill buckets. Most are easily adaptable for home use.
- 4) We have read aloud versions of our books on our YouTube channel. Kids love hearing stories read by their favorite authors.

Additional Resources*

1) Scholastic created a Learn at Home page on their website, full of great projects to keep kids learning while they're at home.

2) Amazing Educational Resources put together a list of free educational resources available so kids keep learning while they're at home.

3) The Points Guy has a list of ten iconic museums you can visit virtually from home.

4) Crayola has a great library of free coloring pages available.

5) The group at Overdrive works with local libraries and has a full catalog of ebooks you can borrow online, including most of our Bucket Fillers' titles!

6) Storyline Online has a great catalog of videos of celebrities reading their favorite books aloud.

*Disclaimer: The aforementioned links to third-party web sites are provided solely as a convenience to you. We are not responsible for the content of linked third-party sites and do not make any representation regarding the content or accuracy of materials on such third-party sites. The information that a third-party web site collects and maintains as a result of your visit may differ from information that Bucket Fillers, Inc. collects and maintains.

Free Shipping Through March 31st

We also wanted to help you get copies of your favorite Bucket Fillers' books and products, either for you or to send directly to a bucketfilling friend as a gift. Through the end of March, we're giving free shipping to all U.S. customers. Enter the code FREESHIP on the check-out screen and we'll take care of the rest for you!

Follow Us for the latest Bucketfilling News!

